April 2024

Volume 17 Issue 3

This Month's Program: Book Arts!

The Library has some book pages and some card stock and three interesting designs to make! Please come to the Library on Wednesday, April 24th at 4pm, and make some book page art. We will make some book marks, we will make some window decorations, and we will make some storage envelopes. In the process, we will find out just how many ways book pages can be used to make attractive art projects! This is an Adult & Teen program.

Annual Meeting

Friends of Weston Library (FOWL) was established in 2000. Every April for the past 24 years, Friends of Weston Library board members have planned a fun event for their annual meeting. FOWL's bylaws state the annual meeting will be held each April to give annual reports and conduct other business. This year the meeting is on April 22nd at 7pm, downstairs in the Memorial Hall. Author Joshua Samuel Brown is scheduled to speak. There will be light refreshments. Friends of Weston Library is a 501(c)(3) organization established in 2000 to promote support for library programs and projects.

Joshua Samuel Brown

Joshua Samuel Brown is a journalist, author, gardener and advocate for sustainable living based in Pendleton. Prior to moving to Oregon in 2012, Joshua travelled the globe for two decades, calling a variety of exotic locales - including Taiwan, China, Singapore, Hong Kong, Belize and Newfoundland - home.

In addition to authoring / co-authoring 13 guidebooks for Lonely Planet, Joshua also co-authored a travelogue titled Formosa Moon with his partner, Stephanie Huffman. He's also published two books of short stories, Vignettes of Taiwan & How not to Avoid Jet Lag. His first novel, Spinning Karma was published in 2020, and his second is currently in progress.
